The Rumanian National Committee has taken note with great satisfaction of the speech made by Your Excellency before the Assembly of the United Nations, on September 26, 1949. . . That allusion concerns the imaginary peace that might have been had at the price of the independence of Rumania, and, indeed, of the very existence of the Rumanian people as a nation. . . The Rumanian National Committee is profoundly convinced that no peace could conceivable be established on the basis of such a sacrifice. . .
